

Cassandra M. Pereda

Associate

cpereda@rc.com

Washington, DC — 771.772.9633

Cassandra M. Pereda's practice focuses on tax-exempt municipal bond finance and taxable structured debt products, primarily on tax-exempt affordable multifamily housing bonds, including public offerings and private placements on both rated and unrated bonds. Her experience includes serving as underwriter's counsel, issuer's counsel, and purchaser's counsel. Cassandra also acts as bond and loan counsel for the nation's largest bank-sponsored tax-exempt housing bond and loan conduit private placement program, support for affordable multifamily rental projects.

In law school, Cassandra interned with the in-house legal department of the National Hockey League's (NHL) Nashville Predators. She also interned with the New York City Bar Justice Center's Neighborhood Entrepreneur Law Project, which offers pro bono legal services to small business owners.

Services

- Business Transactions
- Finance + Public Finance
- Public Finance
- Affordable Housing + Finance

Education

- Vanderbilt Law School (Juris Doctor)
 - Chancellor's Law Scholar
 - Moot Court
 - Research Assistant
 - Turner Family Community Enterprise Clinic
 - Vanderbilt Bar Association, Wellness Chair
- Emory University (Bachelors, Phi Beta Kappa)
 - B.A., Political Science | B.A., Psychology
 - Fellow at the Emory Center of the Study of Law, Politics, and Economics
 - Russian and East Asian Languages and Cultures Office
 - Women Studies Teaching Assistant
 - U.S. Chinese Culture Center, Beijing City, China, Teaching Assistant

- Cuban American National Foundation, Archivist Intern and Scholar

Admissions

- District of Columbia

Languages

- Spanish

Leadership + Memberships

American Bar Association

National Association of Bond Lawyers