

Haipeng "Alex" Liang

Counsel

hliang@rc.com

New York — 212.451.2973

---

Haipeng "Alex" Liang has more than twelve years of experience practicing law at international law firms in New York, Hong Kong, and Washington D.C., with a focus on capital markets and mergers and acquisitions.

In his capital markets practice, he has represented both issuers and underwriters in registered and unregistered equity and debt offerings, including IPOs, follow-on offerings, as well as convertible and high-yield bond offerings

In his mergers and acquisitions practice, he has represented both China-based and non-China-based clients on cross-border transactions across the finance, energy, manufacturing, and technology industries. He has also provided guidance on Volcker Rule compliance and derivatives matters, including ISDA swap agreements.

In addition to his legal experience, Alex served as an investment manager at China's largest sovereign wealth fund, where he managed direct investment projects across the U.S., Europe, and Mongolia, spanning industries such as infrastructure, energy, healthcare, and consumer sectors.

Services

- Capital Markets + Securities

Education

- Columbia Law School (Juris Doctor)
  - Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar
- Stanford University (Masters)
  - M.A., Economics
- Graduate School of People's Bank of China (Masters)
  - M.S., Finance
- Renmin University of China (Bachelors)
  - B.S., Economics

Admissions

- State of New York