

Meryl E. Breeden

Counsel

mbreeden@rc.com

New York — 212.451.2909

Meryl E. Breeden represents professional liability insurers in coverage and litigation matters involving directors and officers liability, errors and omissions and fiduciary liability claims. She focuses her practice in the areas of commercial litigation and financial lines. Meryl is a member of our firm's Insurance + Reinsurance group.

Prior to joining Robinson+Cole, Meryl worked at a New York law firm where she represented domestic and international insurers in complex commercial litigation, including first-party and third-party insurance disputes.

While at Boston College Law School, Meryl worked as a summer associate at a New York law firm specializing in civil rights litigation.

Services

- Insurance + Reinsurance
- Financial Lines

Education

- Boston College Law School (Juris Doctor)
 - The Journal of Law and Social Justice, editor
- Davidson College (Bachelors)
 - B.A.

Admissions

- State of New Jersey
- State of New York
- U.S. District Court, Eastern District of New York
- U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York

Leadership + Memberships

Professional Liability Underwriting Society