Taylor A. Vann advises and represents our firm's domestic and international insurer clients in litigation arising from complex insurance coverage disputes arising under commercial property and commercial general liability policies. He has a broad array of experience in the state and federal courts of Connecticut, while also supporting our firm's clients in litigation and claim-related disputes around the country.

Taylor is particularly skilled at managing all phases of the discovery process and harnesses the latest technology to promote the efficient and effective preparation of our client's cases. Taylor also provides coverage analyses and advice to clients prior to litigation.

During law school, Taylor interned at the Connecticut Green Bank, where he assisted the Chief Legal Officer and General Counsel in drafting contracts and reviewing financing documents and leases relating to transactions providing quasi-public financing for clean energy projects. Taylor also served as an intern in the Environment Department of the Connecticut Attorney General's office, conducting research and drafting memoranda in cases being litigated by the AG's office.
